

Protection against body fluids

In the event of having to deal with a situation with a child or another staff member having to deal with a body fluid, you must at all times wear protective disposable gloves and an apron to avoid having contact with the fluid.

Once the situation has been dealt with, you must thoroughly clean the contaminated area with disinfectant , then discard protective clothing and clean your hands, arms etc.